Let AMT Help You Deploy DTAs Without Truck Rolls or Customer Phone Calls

Motorola DTAs are available in SD or HD from AMT. They provide operators with the benefits of a cost-effective digital network. The SD series converts digital services to analog while the HD series allows broadcast digital signals to be decoded from MPEG-2/MPEG-4 transport, then converted to an analog or HDMI signal intended for display on SD and HD capable devices. Features include: unidirectional functionality, a single in-band tuner, SD or HD decoding capabilities and a basic user interface for accessing one-way digital services.
